Even though a students’ time at Kellett will eventually come to an end, we hope their relationship with us continues for life. The Kellett community spirit is strong and extends well beyond Hong Kong’s borders and the years that individuals spend at the School.

All former Kellett students and staff are Old Kellettonions, or OKs. As the School was founded over 40 years ago, our OK community is now spread all over the world, working in a diverse range of industries and enjoying a wide variety of life experiences.

The Alumni Website

We encourage our alumni to regularly visit and explore alumni.kellettschool.com. The website launched in September 2018 and is designed to be informative and user-friendly. Here you can connect with other OKs, find all the latest news and information from the School, as well as information on job, internship or mentoring opportunities and upcoming reunions. You can also browse the many photos from the past on our growing archive which we hope will jog some happy memories!

An alumni network is only as good as the members within it! Please do help the network grow by signing up and encouraging other OKs to do the same. We occasionally send newsletters and invites out to our members, linking to stories about our alumni and upcoming events. If you want to be updated more frequently, please check the homepage news feed to see who’s recently joined, find out what information other OKs have shared, as well as more on recent events and news stories.

It’s easy to create a profile and you can also import your LinkedIn profile to make the process even easier. By doing so, you can find new connections, such as OK alumni now working in the same industry or company as you, or people that go or went to the same university. By adding work and education information to your profiles, we can help connect you.

We are always delighted to hear from OKs who wish to share news with the rest of the community: please get in touch with us and we will be happy to help.
Recent Leavers

As soon as students leave Kellett for the last time, they are encouraged to sign up to the OK network which we hope will be a useful resource over the years. It’s easy to create a profile and you can also import your LinkedIn profile to make the process even easier. We use the information you given us to help find people you might have known when you were at the School – the more information you give us, the more friends we can find! Once you’ve found a friend, you can send them a connection request and a private message, just like on LinkedIn.

Our university buddy programme connects new undergraduates with older students at the same university or within the same city who also studied at Kellett.

The School regularly checks in with recent leavers. Whilst at university, OKs are known as ‘Dragonites’, and they are invited to a number of events in the UK and Hong Kong where they can come together to exchange stories and keep that network of friends even when away from home.

Steve Martin, Kellett’s Head of Sixth Form, aims to visit as many students as he can at their university campus so that they maintain that connection with Kellett. Through the alumni network they can learn about upcoming alumni events which regularly take place in the UK, Australia and the US, and they can also contact other alumni to arrange conversations, meetings and internship opportunities.

For students that wish to delay higher education or pursue their own path in a different field, the website can help them connect with other OKs who may be able to give them advice as they make their way in the world or offer mentorships, job opportunities or internships.
Future Pathways

As OKs enter the next stage of their lives, we regularly organise reunions in different cities around the world with annual get-togethers in the UK, the US and Australia. We also host networking events and via the website, OKs can access particular year groups or people in a certain location.

We are always delighted to hear from OKs who wish to give back to the School. There are a number of ways to do this, including offering mentoring, internships and careers advice to current students, either online via the website or by coming back to school to give talks in person. These events are always well-attended and extremely useful to current students; they also enable the School to offer real-world advice and information on the skillsets needed for the 21st century workplace.

OKs may also choose to contribute to the School through a donation. The Donald Fund for bursaries and scholarships, honours the former Principal’s contribution to the school over more than two decades. The Fund celebrates students’ personal excellence and provides assistance to those who might otherwise not be able to afford access to the fantastic educational experience Kellett students enjoy. If you would like to make a donation to this excellent cause, please find out how, including information on making a tax-deductible donation, via the alumni website.
